Playground Fundraising Update

Our awesome PAC Playground Fundraising Committee has been very busy getting ready to raise funds so our students can have the fun new playground they deserve. They have been busy prepping for a raffle that will start in the new year (new date), but for this coming week, we have a very special fundraising announcement.

If, by end of the 10:30am assembly on December 17th we've raised $1,000 for the playground, Mr. Badyal has agreed to have his head shaved. The highest bidder will get the honours to shave him if they want....if they don't want the honours, we might raffle off that opportunity as well. You will be able to make donations online from our school webpage You can make donations (see attached instructions) before the assembly or during the assembly. We will provide updates on our progress during the assembly, so everyone knows how close we are to our $1,000 goal.

Thompson Tiger Spirit Day

Lots of Tiger school spirit today. Check out some of the pictures on our Instagram account @thompsonstigers. More Tiger Spirit Day pics are below. There were a lot of pictures taken for our school yearbook as well. Our next Spirit Day is Pyjama Day on December 17th.

Dressing properly for the weather

A friendly reminder for the students to come dressed appropriately for the weather. Because the weather can easily change over the course of the day, erring on the side of extra layers (just in case) is the best way to go to ensure comfort. Also, many of our classrooms are continuing to have windows open for increased air circulation, so additional layers for students to wear inside (just in case) is good planning. Remember, on the west coast, there is no bad weather... just bad gear.

Parent volunteers still needed for the parking lot –

We have two awesome parents volunteering at the moment, but it would be nice to have a few more to lend a hand (#manyhandsmakelightwork). If you are able to assist occasionally (or regularly on a certain day of the week), and enjoy VIP parking and Starbucks coffee, please send Jen Dahl (our PAC Chairperson) a note at jendahl@shaw.ca
